Coast Highway Contract Awarded

The State Highway Commission awarded the contract last week for the construction of ten miles of the wonderful Coast Highway between Arroyo La Cruz, San Luis Obispo county, and Salmon Creek, Monterey county. There were fifteen bidders for this section of work, and an Oakland firm won the contract on a bid of $161,000. The engineers' estimate was $200,000, so it will be seen that the successful bidder was $39,000 under the estimate.

On this ten-mile section there will be 169,000 cubic yards of earth to be removed, and the contractors bind themselves to build all the culverts and guard rails and to distribute 700 cubic yards of concrete on the curves.

The next ten-mile section of this wonderful highway to be let will be at this end of the line, from Posts southward. It is the commission's intention to let the contracts, two ten-mile sections at each end a year for the next two years, and have the highway completed in 1924.

The distance to be entirely opened and constructed is approximately fifty miles, and the distance already opened, partly at each end of the road, is about another fifty miles.

Funds Assured

The success of the Mission pageant held on October 2nd for the purpose of arousing interest among Californians in the restoration of the famous old Carmel Mission, Father Raymond M. Mestres, the parish priest in Carmel and Monterey, has been assured of aid from many sources.

Plans call for the rebuilding of the Mission and the great quadrangle at a cost of $125,000. The work will be done under the supervision of Bernard R. Maybeck, San Francisco architect, and J. J. Mora, well-known sculptor.

With the laying of the corner stone of the "restored" Mission, an impetus has been given the undertaking, and funds are expected to be available as needed until the rebuilding of the edifice and other landmarks is completed. The Carmel Mission was founded by Father Junipero Serra, and Father R. R. Mestres is the fifth parish priest in charge of the Mission.

County Nurse Reports

At last week's Teachers' Institute Miss Woodland, Monterey county nurse, gave facts showing the results of the last two years of health supervision: "Marked improvement in health is noticeable throughout the county, due to the greater care of the body and result of health instruction. In addition to the general work, fifty children have had minor operations, such as adenoids and tonsils removed."

C. R. Weller and wife were recent visitors here. Mr. Weller is an officer of the First National Bank at Fort Bragg. They have been attending the Bankers' Convention at Del Monte. Mrs. Weller is a cousin of W. L. Overstreet.

Pine Needles

Robert Wells Ritchie is away for about a month in Oregon and Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Fitzgerald have gone to Los Angeles, and will be away a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Maxtone-Graham came down from Berkeley last week for a fortnight's stay.

After several months in Pacific Grove, Mrs. McChesney and daughter have resumed their residence in Carmel.

Miss Grace Hamilton spent the last week-end in Burlingame, where she gave the Red Cross "Punch and Judy" show.

Mrs. J. B. Lippincott of Los Angeles, who was here some years ago, is visiting her brother, George T. Cook, at Pebble Beach.

Harris G. Comings and Al Peckham have opened an automobile repair shop on Dolores street, just north of Ocean avenue.

Dr. Josephine Jackson and Miss Harriet Pyle of Pasadena were guests of Mrs. J. A. Freeman and family for a short time last week.

Joe Mora has returned to his studio, after a week's nursing of a severe cold he contracted in the strenuous work of putting across a pageant.

Three paintings of the Carmel sand dunes, executed by Jessie Short Jackson, were recently purchased by Samuel Savannah, noted violinist, for his new home at Forest Hill.

The Wallaces, who have been camping on the hill east of Ocean avenue for several months, have moved to the Alden bungalow at Monte Verde street and Seventh avenue, for the winter.

Frank S. Clark, H. G. Jorgensen and A. E. Warth, attorneys, were named by Judge J. A. Bardin last Thursday as a committee to formulate rules for the government of Superior Court business.

Miss Grace Graham's residence on the Point is completed and occupied, and a week-end house party celebrated the event. Miss Graham is administrative manager of the Pacific Division of the Red Cross.

George W. Wagoner did not go to Honolulu. He was a delegate from Pennsylvania to the Press Congress of the World, but when he reached San Francisco he switched his plans and came to Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Curtis have returned from their vacation at Tassajara Springs. They celebrated their home coming by presenting every attendant at Saturday's movies with a toothsome reminder of "Candy Day."

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fitzgerald have purchased the Hamlin cottage at Eleventh and Monte Verde. The deal was consummated after the couple were here but one night. Mrs. Fitzgerald, who is a sister-in-law of Burt Fitzgerald, said: "I have fallen in love with the people and the charming atmosphere of Carmel."

R. E. Crouch and family have gone to Pasadena to make their home.

Mrs. Donald Corson is away for ten days, visiting relatives in Oakland.

Miss Marion Boke departed for San Francisco last Saturday, to be away all this week.

The Tolman family of Palo Alto were down for the week end, occupying their own cottage.

Young Robert Maxtone Graham is in Scotland visiting relatives. He will be away until spring.

Mrs. Laura W. Maxwell and Arthur Cyril were guests of J. F. Devendorf on a motor trip to San Francisco last week.

Miss Virginia Williams, instead of returning to her home at Palo Alto, has been visiting the Hathaways at Pebble Beach.

Ray C. DeVoe motored to Oakland last Friday to visit his wife and son. They will probably join him here in about two weeks.

In a letter from Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. W. C. Covington states that she expects to be in Carmel by the end of this month.

Mrs. L. C. Rose and family, who have been sojourning here for the past three months, have returned to their home in Chicago.

The Hodges family, who were here for several months last year, arrived last week from Beaver City, Utah, and plan to remain here all winter.

Jess Weiss, well known in Carmel when he made his home at the ranch house near San Jose Canyon, off the Coast Road, died in Monterey last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. W. Johnson have as guest Mrs. Evan Royal Mosher, who recently returned from the East. She will spend the winter here.

Jack Williamson, local writer and newspaperman, took a business trip to the city last week. He has resumed work on the erection of his home here.

Last week Mrs. Florence Brown journeyed to Piedmont to attend the marriage of her brother, Harford Sharon, returning here immediately after the ceremony.

Frederick Preston Search is now a member of the California Theatre orchestra in San Francisco. He recently motored north with his mother, who has returned.

Miss Susan Romeyn Zabiska is a recent arrival in Carmel from her summer home in Maine. She is much taken with Carmel, and has taken the James cottage for an indefinite period.

A marriage ceremony which united James F. May and Miss Norma N. Stoner, of Carmel, was performed here October 6th by Judge David Wallace. Mr. May is a soldier stationed at the Presidio Monterey, and his bride is a resident of Carmel. The marriage took place in the City Hall.—Salinas Index.

Armistice Day Plan Formulated

Carmel is to have a glorious celebration of Armistice Day, Friday, November 11th.

A committee of citizens, among them Dr. Alfred Burton, Argyll Campbell, Winsor Josselyn, W. L. Overstreet, Dr. H. W. Feuner, Lewis Josselyn, Austin James, C. S. Green and Dr. C. A. McCollom, met at the City Hall last Saturday afternoon to formulate plans for an impressive program.

The principal event will be the laying of the corner stone of the memorial to be erected in honor of the men and women of Carmelo Precinct who were enlisted in the country's service during the World War.

It is proposed that the structure be erected on Ocean avenue where now stands the drinking trough. The rock of which the memorial is to be built has been donated by Harvey A. Russell, and will be constructed in accordance with drawings and plans prepared by C. Sumner Greene.

The program and publicity committee will provide speeches, music, and other features. With the help of the American Legion and the press of Monterey and Pacific Grove it is hoped to have every war soldier and sailor of the Monterey Peninsula present in uniform.

At the suggestion of Secretary of War, John W. Weeks, President Harding has issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to pause for two minutes at noon on November 11th in honor of the unknown American soldier who is to be buried that day in Arlington cemetery.

San Antonio Avenue May Be Improved

In the expectation that the City Board of Trustees would announce a decision concerning the type of pavement to be laid on Ocean avenue, a large "gallery" was present at Tuesday night's adjourned meeting. No decision was reached, but a great deal of information as to the respective merits of various "mixes" and thicknesses was brought out. It is said that a canvas of Ocean avenue property owners favors unsurfaced concrete.

Dr. C. A. McCollom of the Armistice Day committee was in attendance. This committee was granted permission to erect the memorial on Ocean avenue, near San Carlos Highway.

A communication from San Antonio avenue property owners was read, requesting that that thoroughfare be paved in a manner similar to the other north and south streets already laid. No action was taken, owing to the fact that petitions are being prepared for work on other streets, and such being the case, it would be economical and time saving to proceed concurrently.

A lengthy resolution, having to do with the bond election, was given its first reading. The election is to take place on Tuesday, November 22nd. The board meets again tonight.

Mrs. Lottie Fratties is leaving Carmel shortly and expects to be away all winter.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

For the first time in its history, the interior of the historic Mission San Gabriel, "the mother of Los Angeles", has been photographed for the motion pictures. The mission, in longer continuous use than any other of the California chain, will be seen in the Morisco production of "Slippy McGee." Special permission was granted by the bishopric for the use of the mission. Huge lights were installed in the ancient building and "sun-arcs" on scaffolding outside sent their rays through the windows in the five-foot thick walls. Samuel De Grasse played the role of the priest.

Two American ballroom dancers in England, Miss Dorothy Dickson and Mr. Karl Hyson, are attracting much attention—in fact they are creating a sensation. The English critic is quite awed—he infers that ballrooms in America must be constructed upon the generous and colossal scale of most American conceptions—he says, "This couple do not dance—they gyrate. They sweep up and down and around like switchbacks and merry-go-rounds at a fair. They flourish it across the stage with genuflections as numerous and supple as monks and nuns, but, without, of course, their solemnity or devoutness. Their drawing room manners are elegantly expansive. They leap upon tables. The girl is swinging this way and that by her partner, like a pedulum or a cat. Such revolutions would be impossible in a crowded assembly. They need the stage quite to themselves. It is not an unpleasant exhibition, but it is in too spectacular and flamboyant a key to charm and satisfy."

De Wolf Hopper and Francis Wilson, now on the road with "Erminie," and including San Francisco in their tour, threaten (?) to retire from the stage at the end of this season. Hopper plans to say his formal farewell in a unique fashion, by making a tour of the country in a special good-by program in which he will not so much lecture as talk informally on his recollections of the famous actors of his earlier years, give snatches of famous songs of another day and share his rich fund of anecdote and jest, and, of course, he will recite "Casey at the Bat."

Hopper and Wilson are veterans of the stage. Wilson started as a star in 1889 in "The Oolah," basing his bid for stardom on his success in "Erminie." A year later Hopper followed suit.

Now that Bessie Barriscale, Lillian and Dorothy Gish, Mae Marsh and a host of other movie queens are returning to the dramatic stage, Whitford Kane's imperishable question will be answered. He sang:

Flicker, flicker, little star,
Whom I worship from afar,
Would I think you still a queen
Did I know you off the screen?

The Thomas H. Ince Studios at Los Angeles will open soon for a renewal of production activities that will eclipse any period in the history of this producer. Ince has been working day and night with his executive and technical staff preparing for his special and program productions.

John Fleming Wilson, formerly of Carmel, among the best-known international magazine writers, has taken a desk at the Ince Studios to contract for a series of original stories for special productions to be personally supervised by Ince. Wilson, in addition to his big following from his contributions for years in the popular magazines, won an added following with his stage success, "The Man Came Back."

TRADE AT HOME

Why should people patronize their home merchants?

Because it is a great saving of time, and time today represents money.

Because the home merchant can only remain in business through the patronage of home people, and a town without merchants would be a sorry place in which to live.

Because the home merchant sells goods that do not have to be returned because of defects or inferiority of quality. It is the only way in which a local man can hold his trade.

Because the local merchant is not in the habit of charging excessive prices.
You may at times be able to get the same article elsewhere for a little less money, but the quality will invariably be reduced in proportion to the price.
The local merchant cannot afford to sell "cheap" stuff. His customers would not tolerate it.

Because the prosperity of a community depends upon the amount of money in circulation in the community, and that is regulated mainly by the marketing of surplus products abroad and the keeping of as much as possible of the receipts at home.

Because a community that spends most of its money abroad for supplies soon finds that it has but little left for the purchase of additional supplies.

It is so simple a child could understand it, and what a child can comprehend should not go unheeded by adults.

Think it over.

Thinking may accomplish much good. It certainly will do no harm.

HOME TOWN PAPER WEEK

The "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week" idea is getting a big hold upon the papers of the country. Publishers generally have been quick to recognize the opportunity to boost for the old home town sheet-anchor by which all other home town institutions are kept in a firm and safe position.

It is entirely fitting that the local publisher boost his game and that of his fellow-publishers by reminding his readers what the home town paper does and always has done for its town.
It is no more than right, and, besides, there is no one else to do it. The newspaper boosts other meritorious institutions of the town and as it comes within that classification, it is justly entitled to be eulogized and popularized just as well as they.

"Home Town Paper Week" will be observed throughout the United States from November 7th to 12th.

Report on Recent Art Exhibition

The annual exhibition of the artists of Carmel and the Peninsula was held under the auspices of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, from July 22 to September 15, 1921.

The jury of selection in arranging and hanging this exhibition, realizing that the merit of a group of paintings is often judged by the general impression as a whole, made every effort to make this a well balanced and harmonious exhibition.
Each wall being considered with great care and each work being hung in its proper relation to the painting next to it. As a result, the jury feels the exhibition was of a high professional standard. By using this method of hanging, some works of merit had to be given a less prominent place, but in doing this the jury's only consideration was the success of the group, not that of the individual painter.

While the jury did not accept all paintings sent in by each exhibitor, every one who submitted was represented. Whether or not this is a good policy, will be for future committees to decide. The present committee has great hopes that the standard will continue to be held higher each successive year in consonance with the highest ideals of art.

As Carmel is nationally if not internationally known as an art center, our annual exhibition should be in keeping with our wide reputation.

Next year it is hoped that the action on arranging the exhibition will start earlier in the season, so that the exhibition will extend over the entire summer season—June, July and August. Perhaps changing the pictures the first of each month, so as to keep the interest sustained.

We feel that this year's attendance, twenty five hundred visitors, shows a vital interest in our show and warrants efforts to increase the period of exhibition.

This exhibition is now being followed with a showing of small paintings and sketches by Monterey Peninsula artists.

Respectfully submitted,
CORNELIUS BOTKE,
Chairman of Exhibition Committee.

Cure by Vibration

It will be somewhat of a surprise to most of us to learn that by a new discovery, the aches and pains, the maladies, and even the most contagious diseases we encounter, are nothing other than mere vibrations. Medical scientists, following a line of investigation based on that very theory, have discovered that by matching the vibrations of any certain disease with a corresponding vibration of light, a cure may be effected.

Curing diseases by the application of the vibrations of light may seem incredible, so did Marconi's first statement that he could send a wireless message by means of oscillating the other waves, not to speak of Edison's announcement of the talking machine, and even Sir Isaac Newton's expounding of the laws of gravitation.

Yet that is just what science now claims it is doing as a result of years of experimental study by the famous optical and high-frequency authority, Dr. R. A. Thompson. As a result of this research work he claims that many eye ailments can be remedied which might otherwise result fatally.

Dr. J. E. Beck is spending this week at Paraiso Springs. Doc has had a busy season and earned his outing.

Miss Grace Valentine of Oakland is here for a month's stay. She is only recently out of the hospital, where she underwent an appendicitis operation.

Dinner and Vaudeville

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leon Wilson last Sunday had thirty guests for dinner at Rancho La Playa. Just as dinner was announced, the guests were hurried into their machines to fight a fire above the Rancho. A passing motor, seeing a big blaze, gave the alarm. On reaching the spot, a placid Chinaman was found burning off brush to prepare the field for potatoes.

After dinner the guests were treated to a vaudeville show, staged by Charles Van Riper, under the title of "Pathetic Weekly." The acts were as follows:

1. The Mind Reader—Helen Van Riper and Winsor Josselyn.
2. The Ventriloquist—Talbert Josselyn and Harrison Godwin.
3. Concertina solos—John Landers.
4. Russian Dancers—Willette Brown and Douglas Short.
5. The Prima Donna—Mrs. Helen Wilson.
6. Trained Seals—H. L. Wilson, trainer.

The law provides that all parents, guardians, or other persons in charge of minors over 3 and under 18 years of age, must see that such minors are registered at a public elementary schoolhouse in the school district in which they reside. This registration must be done during the week of October 10th, and should be done before noon Saturday, October 15th.

First National Bank

OF MONTEREY, CAL.

Strong Organization

Organization is one of the most important factors in business—and the firm or individual finds it a secure foundation upon which to build.

The First National Bank of Monterey is thoroughly organized and developed for useful banking service.

UNDER UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION

For the first time in musical history a score written for a motion picture production will be played in concert by a symphony orchestra this season in Los Angeles.

"Oriental Rhapsody," composed by Charles Wakefield Cadman, as overture to the "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," the film production of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, will be played in December by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Walter Henry Rothwell, the conductor, in accepting the Rubaiyat overture as a concert suite, also invited Cadman to direct the number himself.

Both Cadman and Rothwell have been in Carmel, the former about three years ago, the latter just recently.

Madam Irene Pavloska, who sung in Carmel recently, will appear this season with the Chicago Company in the roles of Brangane in "Tristan and Isolde," Magdalena in "Die Meistersinger," Emilia in "Otello," Musetta in "La Boheme" and Suzuki in "Madame Butterfly." She will also create the role of Clarice in the first performance of Prokofiev's "The Love of Three Oranges."

Following her opera engagements, she will visit her home in Canada, and in April she will again visit Carmel.

Concerts of the Chamber Music Society this season will be exempt from war tax, according to announcement made by Jessica Colbert. This ruling of the Federal Government is a gratifying recognition of the educative influence wielded by the society.

The organization is at present touring in southern California and will open its San Francisco season October 20 in Scottish Rite Hall. E. Robert Schmitz, the eminent French pianist and conductor, will appear on this occasion as guest artist.

Assistant artists have been engaged for each of the six concerts, the other attractions being Arthur Rubinstein, November 15; the London String Quartet, December 19; Harold Bauer, January 17; May Mukie, February 7; and Myra Hess, February 28.

Fulgenzio Guerrieri, who has done such notable work as director of the Scotti Grand Opera Company, is to make his home in San Francisco.

Guerrieri is steeped in the best traditions of Italian opera. He is no narrow minded clinger to the notions of a bygone generation. He loves the Young Italy of Casella and Malipiero. A pupil of Pedrotti, he was a fellow student and chum of Mascagni and the sharer of the composer's aspirations.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

Here are some of the things said about Sir Philip Gibbs' "Beauty and Nick":

"If you want a friend, a pal—a wife!—look for one like the Lonely Lady in 'Beauty and Nick.' Such a she is rarely to be found in this the age of sex and shekels—surely not in the endless procession of poppy-painted dames and damsels, young as youth, wrinkled as an O'Shanter witch; all with skirts so tight as to make them goat-gaited; so short that these bogus beauties have turned the most beautiful avenue of the world into a mere leg lane, a free rival of the sash-clad ladies of a Broadway burlesque."

"Preachy? Not a single or married line of it!"

"Problem stuff? Not a bit of it. How can there be anything problematical or mathematical in a love, jilted but straight from the heart and soul of an honest Husband Reared youth like Nick?"

"And how can there be anything worth chalked-cipher in the scattered affection of a woman, brainy, brilliant, beautiful as Beauty; but minus of soul as a dummy, and with a heart that shifts and softens only to the love whispers of a trousered cheek book?"

W. D. Howells and Mark Twain were lunching together in a restaurant. Presently two overdressed young men came in. They beckoned to the waiter. Said the first: "Some lobster and a bottle of my usual wine, and just mention my name to the chef so that the lobster will be to my liking."

The second said: "A fried sole waiter, and tell the manager I am here, will you please?"

The waiter then approached the table of the two authors.

Mark Twain looked up at him with a smile. "A dozen oysters, please," he said, "and—er—mention my name to each one of them."

Alvin Johnson's "Wasted Generation" is a novel that raises its author from the ranks of those novelists who reflect life and thought into the company of those few writers who mold them. It is an enthralling story of contemporary America. More than that, it is a convincing exposition of the failure of modern education to instill in our young men the ideals and the love of service which are inseparable from true Americanism. "The Wasted Generation" is a book for all thinking Americans who are alive to the dangers threatening the new America, and by "the new America" we mean the conditions which have been thrust upon us and that have arisen as the result of the world war.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction
In Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquaint masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 19,877 nurses, is well known. And there are today 37,787 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,551 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 388 by the Army and Navy and 1,163 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,348 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,257, while 81 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,179. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

New classes formed during year 5,179
Classes completed during year. 6,299
New students enrolled 101,068
Students completing course.... 73,432
What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:
New classes formed during year 142
Classes completed during year.. 186
New students enrolled 2,341
Students completing course.... 2,013

In addition to the above, a total of 22,008 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 260 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 90,252 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,015 health lectures were given and 780 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,432 persons were killed and 3,500,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 104,000 students enrolled.

HE WHO LEADS THE WAY

BY NICHOLAS ROERICH

(Published by permission of the author.)

Thou, who comest in the dead of night!
They say Thou art invisible, but that is a lie.
I know hundreds of people,
And everyone has seen Thee
Though it be but once.
Only a few, poor in mind,
Have missed Thy image, many-shaped and varying.
Thou dost not desire to disturb one life,
Thou dost not wish to cause us fear—
So passeth by, silent and still.
Thine eyes can glisten and dazzle,
Thy voice can sound like thunder;
And even a rock can feel
The wrath of Thy mighty blow.
But Thou dost not dazzle,
Thou dost not thunder,
Thou dost not smite.
Thou knowest that quiet is stronger than destruction;
Thou knowest that silence is louder than thunder;
Thou knowest Who cometh in silence and leadeth the way.

A Rank Injustice

He's traveled over vale and hill
A single man, and happy still.

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 6, 1921.

Editor Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, California—Dear Sir: A joke is a joke, and I am able to give one and also take one, but I think you have overstepped it some, as I understand you have published in your paper of my being married to a New York operative star which is not so and I wish to have you print in your paper of your error, and not cause any more unpleasantness to me.

It is true of my having been to Europe with a party composed of New York people, but as to my marriage is all untrue. I am also writing to other Pacific Coast papers that have made the same mistake and such talk as was printed was all rumors that got out without me knowing about it.

Thanking you for the favor I ask of you

I am,

LOYD F. GLOTZBACH.
